

Pat McCoy was named the 2010 Honored Woman at the ECW Fall Conference in Clinton. An active member of St. Alban's in Bolivar, Pat is active in church projects and serves as a Chalice bearer and Eucharistic visitor. She will be one of the three finalists for the Diocesan Honored Woman in 2012.

Each year, the Episcopal Church Women of the Diocese of West Missouri seek nominations from our diocesan parishes for women who serve their churches in extraordinary ways. From the pool of nominations, one special woman is selected as the year's Honored Woman.

In the year of the General Convention and ECW Triennial, the West Missouri ECW will select one Honored Woman from the past three year's to be our Diocesan Honored Woman to be recognized at the National ECW Triennial Meeting. She will receive a pin and certificate from the National ECW President and her picture and biography will be included in the Honored Woman booklet for that Triennial.
